Introducing March of Dimes Canada

March of Dimes Canada provides a wide variety of services to Canadians living with disabilities so they can exercise inclusion, choice, and control in all aspects of their lives. This includes everything from attendant care and accessible travel to employment support.

Community Support Services at March of Dimes Canada

Our nation-wide Community Support Services (CSS) program supports seniors and people living with disabilities, including acquired brain injury, so they can live in their own homes and remain engaged, active members of their communities for as long as possible. These community-based solutions include a range of options, from supportive housing, home-making, and outreach to Personal Support Services.
